WHAT THE THEATERS AND GARDENS OFFER.

WHERE THE BILL, CHANGES.

Clyde Fitch, America's best-known playwright, will challenge comparison with Haddon Chambers, England's popular dramatist, in the repertoire selected by Amelia Binzham for the closing week of her season at the Olympic Theater. On Bunday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and at Wednesday matinee the actress-manager will present her company in Fitch's latest comedy, "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," which, although new to this city, ran for three months at the Princess Theater, New York. For the last half of the week, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday avenings and at the Saturday matinee, Chambers's "A Modern Magdalen" is to be revived. In "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson" Mr. Fitch pictures a coterie of the American colony in Paris. The incidents revolve around the self-sacrifice of a rich and pretty American wildow, whose love for her sister prompts her to accept the odium of a flirtation with an English lord in which he sister was the real principal. In doing this Mrs. Johnson prejudices her own love siffair, and threatens to wreck her happiness, until her misguided sister comes forward and scknowledges herself as the culprit. In "A Modern Magdalen" Miss Bingham will again present her remarkable study of the young woman who voluntarily sacrifices her honor to save the life of her sister and stay the fortunes of her family.

Her rise to a compleuous position on the music hall stage, the discovery of Katinka's existence by her family, their scurn of her, her despair at the result of her sacrifice, and her determination to end her life, and her redemption, are pictured with splendid fidelity.

Wilton Lackaye, W. L. Abingdon, Ferdinand Gottschalk, James Carew, Ernest Lawford, Geo. Spink, Carl St. Albyn, Bijou Fernandez, Madge Carr Cook, Frances Ring, Maud Turner Gordon, Helsen Lackaye, Wesley Smith, Georga Cross and Lillian Wright, all of whom were successful in "The Climbers," will appear again this week in both plays. Bix artists are on Colonel Hopkins's weekly mogramme at Forest Park Highlands. As this is pionic week at the Highlands, much regard has been paid to the juvenile mind and taste, and several of the acts will delight the little ones. Joe Maxwell's new musical comedy, "The Fire Chief," is said to be both thrilling and fanny, Mr. Maxwell and his coartists are new to St. Louis. The Elinore Sisters will present for the last time their delightful absurdity "Mrs. Delaney" before going into the legitimate next fail. Wylle's dogs are another canine circus to be seen in an array of new and difficult tricks. Will H. Fox will make his farewell bow to the West in his "Paddywhiskie" satire. Mr. Fox will not be in this country for at least two years to come. Eva Mudge, as the military maid, will do some of her quick changes, and Morris Cronin has some juggling novelities which have never been in St. Louis. The following schools will celebrate their picnics at the High-ands this week: Monday, St. John of Nepomuk; Tuesday, Riddick School; Wednesday, O'Fallon School: Thursday, Monroe and Shepherd Schools; Friday, Fremont School.

After months of preparation the new Suburban Park is open for the season. F. N. Innes and his band will fill an engagement of reveral weeks. The national reputation of his band insures Innes a clientele. The organization arrived from New York last week, and has been in rehearsal for several days. cently offered a prize for a new play in one act. Over 500 were submitted in the competition and "Hearts" received the award. The second number on the programme is "The New Woman, a Comedy of A. D. 1860," in three acts, by T. S. Denison. The following quotation from a recent article by the late Max O'Rell is said to be apropos in relation to one of the mirth-provoking ideas in this play: "When the customs of society are so changed as to make women propose to men instead of men proposing to women, I shall more readily believe that women do not marry for want of inclination. Now, I am inclined to think (but this is, perhaps, the stupid vanity of a man) that when they do not marry it is for want of invitation. "Lodgings to Let" will be the closing playlet. The following pupils are to take part in the entertainment: The Misses Mary Frein, Jessie Clement, Marjorie Smith, Matilda Holle, E. K. Jones, Mac Gordon and Messrs, Joseph Solari, Winfield S. Muchleiren, E. J. Seems and Vincent Pittman. Next season the Lindsley school will be conducted at the Odeon.

The Black Crook Extravaganza Company will give this week's show at the Standard. "A Manager's Troubles," the opening sketch, will introduce Williams and Adams. The travesty is to be followed by the following olio: Minnie May Thompson, the dancing marvel; the Three Graces. Thompson, the dancing marvel; the Three Graces, in a one-act farce; Fry and Allen, aketch artists: Hilton and Adams, vocalists, and Stilwell and Bchaefer, musicians. "Love's Crooked Way," a farce, will be the closing feature.

Professor Waldemar Malmene of St. Louis has written a Louislana triumphal march which he dedicated to President D. R. Francis. The composition was played recently at Delmar Garden. E. R. Couturier is pleased with the march and will place it on his programme several times during the season.

PATROLMAN SEARS SET NEW REVOLVER RECORD.

Established Total for Six Turns at Range and Equaled Indi-vidual Mark.

Patrolman Sidney Sears of the Central District passed all previous records for total score in police revolver work yesterday, making a grand total of 719 for his six turns at the range, and equaling Captain Crescy's individual score record of 123 for a single target. Sears now heads the de-Creecy's individual score record of 123 for a single target. Sears now heads the department.

Central District patrolmen, to the number of more than 100, were absent on special and strike duty yesterday. The record for the district is not complete, accordingly, but none of the members seem close enough to Bears to make a likelihood of his mark being passed at all probable. He is practically sure of the marksmanship button for his district.

Veteran Tom Gardner, the expert shot for the old-age division, improved his individual score by totaling 110 yesterday. His previous record was 101, and yesterday's total placed him well up in the list of competitors for his district.

Sears now leave Captain Creecy by a margin of 13 points, the Captain's total being 50. Scores made yesterday, of 69 points and over, were: Sears, 123; Harlow, 113; Mauplia, 118; Longsworth, 117; Meagher, 115; O'Gara, 114 and 119; Conlon, 123; Jenus, 111; Reardon, 111; Gardner, 110; Christmer, 107; Combs, 125; Thompson, 104; Jophin, 102; Combs, 125; Thompson, 104; Jophin, 102; Combs, 125; W. Murphy, 38; Lovie, 36; Scores and treen, 116.

It is believed that all the districts will complete their scores this week. Upon the final shoot Chief Kiely will present the marksmanship buttons to the successful
